Application for Reciprocity Benefits

Minnesota Office of Higher Education South Dakota Board of Regents

GENERAL INFORMATION AND INSTRUCTIONS

Minnesota-South Dakota Tuition Reciprocity Program 2023-2024 Academic Year (Fall 2023-Summer 2024)

To avoid delay, applications must be mailed directly to the appropriate state BY THE APPLICANT The application must be completed in INK or TYPED APPLICATION TO THE PROGRAM IS THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE INDIVIDUAL

HOW TO APPLY: Complete this application IN FULL and sign the certification. Minnesota residents enrolling in South Dakota institutions no longer have to complete a paper application. South Dakota residents enrolling in Minnesota institutions other than University of Minnesota campuses do not need to submit this application, since eligibility will be determined by the campus. Those attending University of Minnesota campuses should submit this application to the South Dakota Board of Regents. Reciprocity recipients who earned credits during the 2022-2023 academic year will automatically have benefits renewed for the 2023-2024 academic year at the institution(s) reporting credits for the student during the 2022-2023 academic year. Therefore, these students do NOT need to complete a reciprocity application for the 2023-2024 academic year. If your current institution has not received notification of your renewal status by November 1, 2023, please contact the administering agency in your state of residence.

DEADLINE: The application deadline is the last day of classes at the institution attended for the term benefits are requested. Applications will not be processed retroactively. If you wish to receive reciprocity benefits for the entire academic year, your application must be correctly completed and postmarked by the last day of scheduled classes for the fall term at the institution you are attending. If you would like confirmation that your application was mailed by the deadline, it is suggested you mail the application by certified mail with a return receipt requested from the post office.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE: The Minnesota-South Dakota Tuition Reciprocity Program improves the postsecondary educational advantages for residents of Minnesota and South Dakota through greater availability and accessibility of postsecondary opportunities. Any student who meets residency requirements at a public institution may attend a Minnesota public institution on a space available basis and pay the established reciprocity tuition rate for course work that is located in Minnesota under this program. Similarly, any student who meets residency requirements in Minnesota may attend a South Dakota public institution on a space available basis and pay the established reciprocity rate for course work that is located in South Dakota. Students enrolled in those programs where special contracts exist between the two states are not eligible.

ELIGIBLE INSTITUTIONS

NOTIFICATION OF ACCEPTANCE: You will receive the results of your application within six weeks after you have applied. If you do not receive results within six weeks, you should assume your application has not been received and apply again.

APPLICATION FOR ADMISSIONS: Application to the Minnesota-South Dakota Reciprocity Program does not constitute application for admission to an educational institution. Regardless of your eligibility for tuition reciprocity, you must still apply and qualify for admission to the school of your choice, following the procedures required by that institution.

ADMINISTERING AGENCIES: The South Dakota Board of Regents (SDBOR) will determine the residency and eligibility status of South Dakota applicants enrolled in University of Minnesota campuses and will certify to the Minnesota Office of Higher Education (OHE) that the student is eligible to pay the established reciprocity fee. The OHE will then notify the Minnesota public institutions. South Dakota campuses will determine the residency and eligibility status of Minnesota residents attending South Dakota public institutions and will certify to the Minnesota Office of Higher Education.
